Deposit Policy

Introduction

One of the important functions of a bank is to accept deposits from the public for the purpose of lending. This is even more important for KCG ("the Bank"), as growth of liability is a critical focus area of the Bank's business. Also, more generally, the depositors and the interest paid on their deposits form the key area of the regulatory framework for banking in India and this has been enshrined in the Banking Regulation Act, 1949. While the Reserve Bank of India regulates the conduct of deposit accounts, it allows the Bank to formulate deposit products within the broad guidelines.

While reviewing this Policy, the Bank reiterates its commitment to individual customers as outlined in Bankers' Fair Practice Code of Indian Banks Association. This document is a broad framework under which the rights of common depositors are recognized. Detailed operational instructions on various deposit schemes and related services shall be issued from time to time.

This Policy shall undergo an annual review and approval process by the Board of Directors through a Sub-committee of the Board. If any change in this Policy is subsequently approved, consequent upon any change in regulatory guidelines, market conditions, etc., such changes and approvals shall be deemed to be part of the Policy until the policy and framework are comprehensively reviewed next time. All such interim changes shall be approved by Asset Liability Management Committee (ALCO) before it comes into place.

Objectives

This Policy document on deposits outlines the guiding principles in respect of formulation of various deposit products offered by the Bank and terms and conditions governing the conduct of the account. The document recognizes the rights of depositors and aims at dissemination of information with regard to various aspects of acceptance of deposits from the members of the public, conduct and operations of various deposit accounts, payment of interest on various deposit accounts, closure of deposit accounts, method of disposal of deposits of deceased depositors, etc., for the benefit of customers. It is expected that this document would impart greater transparency in dealing with the individual customers and create awareness among customers of their rights. The ultimate objective is that the customer shall get services they are rightfully entitled to receive.

Types of Deposit accounts

Various deposit products offered by the Bank are assigned different names. Deposit products can be categorized broadly into the following types.

- A. Demand deposit means a deposit received by the Bank which is withdrawable on demand;
